

After reading both Dante's Inferno and Tennyson's "Ulysses," answer these questions on a clean sheet of paper. Include examples from the poem to prove your answers.

1. Underline unfamiliar words in this poem. Infer their meaning within their context.
2. Does Tennyson's Ulysses relate to Dante or Homer? Why?
3. Describe the narrator. What is his situation?
4. Describe the narrator's feelings towards Penelope and Telemachus.
5. Contrast the narrator's opinion of Ithaca with his opinion of the mariners and the sea.
6. Evaluate Ulysses' claims of his merit. What are they? Why does he give account of them?
7. Explain the last line of the poem in light of the first line.
8. What does this message offer to us today?

After reading both Dante's Inferno and Tennyson's "Ulysses", answer these questions on a clean sheet of paper. Include examples from the poem to prove your answers.

1. Underline unfamiliar words in this poem. Infer their meaning within their context.
2. Does Tennyson's Ulysses relate to Dante or Homer? Why?
3. Describe the narrator. What is his situation?
4. Describe the narrator's feelings towards Penelope and Telemachus.
5. Contrast the narrator's opinion of Ithaca with his opinion of the mariners and the sea.
6. Evaluate Ulysses' claims of his merit. What are they? Why does he give account of them?
7. Explain the last line of the poem in light of the first line.
8. What does this message offer to us today?